

Haddad

public, since the clearance of Haddad and Doe. Some members of the House have already spoken against the decision.

The March 2009 Forensic Audit Report of the General Auditing Commission recommends that Mr. Haddad, former Deputy Finance Minister Tugbeh Doe, former Minister of Lands, Mines & Energy Jonathan Mason and the former President and CEO of the Liberia Mining Company (LIMINCO) Mr. Ciapha Gbolie be held accountable for the controversial sale of the iron ore, which in the wisdom of the GAC was not in line with transparency and accountability. By Jerome Carnge.

Bride

non, National Social Security & Welfare Corporation Director Francis Carbah, AcelorMittal CEO Joseph Matthews and USAID Country Director Pamela White, amongst others.

Organizers of the symposium promised to reduce all the recommendations to a package that would be presented to the government and all partners concerned with the impact of receipt of the first consignment. "I am really elated, and I must say that we are elated. The people of Gedebo and the people of Maryland County as a whole are grateful to these two great men who've taken their precious time, effort and resources to prepare what I consider a solid treasure for all of us and generations yet unborn. We say hats off to them; may God continue to multiply their blessings. I am particularly grateful and appreciative because my family background is recognized and venerated in such an esteemed endeavor", she averred.

Meanwhile, reports from Maryland County say the citizens, especially students are expressing thanks and appreciation to Teachers Kamma Reeves and Nyenati Davis for their effort aimed at enriching the libraries of schools in the county and beyond.

William Kpaye Kamma Reeves was born in Kablake, Gedebo, Maryland County. In 1955, he graduated from Our Lady of Fatima High School in Harper City, and the next year started teaching in its elementary division. He earned a bachelor's degree in education

Mr. Isaac Redd of the Business College said he is prepared to respectfully engage the UL Administration to improve the record system of the institution and to work out plans aimed at abolishing examinations for graduates (students) from the undergraduate programs, wishing to pursue graduate studies at the University.

He praised the Emmett Dennis Administration for what he called its seriousness to elevate the state owned university to a modern standard.

'Gbiakunmen', Mr. Redd said will be the "cut off point for all irregularities" other graduating classes faced in the past.

LWSC

LWSC facilities during fighting in the 1990s when fighters attempted to dismantle the pipe.

He said there have been improvements at the water plant, noting "LWSC will continue to provide services to the people by providing 4.5 million gallons per day."

According to the LWSC boss, a test is being conducted to supply drinking water to Zwedru, Grand Gedeh County, adding very shortly LWSC and its partners will inaugurate a water plant in Zwedru, while feasibility studies are taking place in other parts of the country.

He said management is trying to extend its services to other communities, but due to "soil contraction" the process is encountering difficulties.

He also spoke of plan to construct public latrines in the city, disclosing that international donor institutions have put in place all necessary modalities that will lead to the construction of public latrines for residents of Zwedru.

Mr. Tulay recalled that in the past, public latrines in the country were managed by the Monrovia City Corporation, but the new ones will be maintained by the LWSC.

Mike Mueller Charity Fulfills Promise

A European based Liberian group, Mike Mueller Charity, has completed a roofing project of the campus of the Monrovia Demonstration School worth over ten thousand United States dollars.

Speaking at the turning over ceremony in Monrovia on Friday, the Vice Chairman of the Charity, Henry Moore said the project is an initial contribution to the children of Liberia, whom he said have suffered over the years as a result of the civil.

The Mike Mueller Charity did not only re-roof the school building, but restored pile borne water to the campus.

He said the restoration of the water will enable the 1,212 student population on campus to have easy access to safe drinking water.

Mr. Moore disclosed that an ambulance that was earlier promised to the JFK Medical Center by the Charity along with two other ambulances is expected in the country shortly.

According to him, the plans are underway to distribute rice to several villages across the country including computers and textbooks across the country.

In response, the Principal of the Monrovia Demonstration Elementary School, Terrance Moore praised the Mike Mueller Charity for the gesture and appealed to the Charity to help reconstruct the Teachers' Lounge of the school.